[illegible]bscribers order the discontinuance [illegible]ewspapers, the publisher may con[illegible]send them until all arrearages are

If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their newspapers from the offices to which they are directed, they are held responsible until they have settled the bills and ordered them discontinued.

4. If subscribers remove to other places without informing the publishers and the newspapers are sent to the former direction they are held responsible

5. The Courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers from the office, or removing and leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

6. The United States Courts have also repeatedly decided that a postmaster who neglects to perform his duty of giving reasonable notice, as required by the Post Office Department, of the neglect of a person to take from the office newspapers addressed to him, renders the Postmaster liable to the publishers for the subscription price.

Constitution of the Confederate States.

WHEREIN IT DIFFERS WITH THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES.

We note the principal points of difference between the permanent constitution of the Confederate States and the constitution of the United States of America, as follows:—

1. The preamble invokes "the favor and guidance of Almighty God."

2. Any judicial or other federal officer, resident and acting solely within the limits of any State, may be impeached by a vote of two thirds of both branches of the Legislature of such State.

3. Congress may, by law, grant to the principal officer in each of the executive departments a seat upon the floor of either house, with the privilege of discussing any measures appertaining to his department.

4. The President may approve any appropriation and disapprove any other appropriation in the same bill.

5. The general welfare clause is omitted.

6. No bounties can be granted from the treasury, and no duties or taxes on importations from foreign nations shall be laid to promote or foster any branch of industry

7. Congress shall have no power to appropriate money for any internal improvement intended to facilitate commerce, except for the purpose of furnishing lights, beacons, buoys and other aids to navigation on the coasts and the improvement of harbors, and the removing of obstructions in rivers, and in all such cases such duties shall be laid on the navigation facilitated as may be necessary to pay the costs and expenses thereof.

8. The expenses of the Post Office Department after the 1st of March, 1863, shall be paid out of its own revenue.

9 The importation of negroes of the African race from any foreign country, other than the slaveholding States and Territories of the United States, is forbidden.

10. Congress shall have power to prohibit the introduction of slaves from any State not a member of or Territory not belonging to the confederacy.

11. Congress shall appropriate no money, unless it be asked and estimated for by some one of the heads of departments, and submitted by the President, unless by a vote of two-thirds of both houses, taken by yeas and nays— or to pay its own expenses or claims adjudicated against the confederacy.

12. Congress is required to establish a tribunal to adjudicate claims against the government.

13. Congress can grant no extra compensation to any contractor, officer, agent or servant, after contract made or service rendered.

14. Every law shall relate to but one subject, and that shall be expressed in the title.

15. When any river divides, or flows through two or more States they may enter into compacts to improve its navigation.

16. The President holds his office for six years, and is not reeligible.

17. Upon removal of civil officers in the executive department, except Cabinet officers and officers connected with the diplomatic service, the President shall report the removal to the Senate, with his reasons therefor.

18. The citizens of one State cannot sue the citizens of another State in the federal courts.

19. Citizens of each State shall have the right of transit and sojourn in any State of the confederacy with their slaves and other property, and the right of property in slaves shall not thereby be impaired.

20. Other States shall be admitted by a vote of two thirds of the whole House of Representatives, and two thirds of the Senate voting by States.

21. The institution of negro slavery shall be recognized and protected in the territory, by Congress and the Territorial governments. And the citizens of all the States shall have the right to take their slaves to the territory.

22. The constitution shall be amended upon the demand of any three States for a convention of all the States suggesting the amendments. And if the convention of all the States concur in the amendments and they are ratified by two-thirds of the State Legislatures or Conventions, they shall be a part of the constitution.

23. Congress shall pass no law impairing or denying the right of property in negro slaves.

PROSPECTUS

OF

The Charleston Mercury,

A Political, Commercial and Literary Newspaper.

PUBLISHED DAILY & TRI-WEEKLY.

THE Mercury gives daily reports of the Market and Marine Intelligence in Charleston, and of Charleston commerce in the leading seaports of the world. The Weekly Prices Current is made up with much care, and from the most reliable sources. Its connection with the "Associated Press" insures the latest intelligence by Telegraph and the earliest news by Steamers from Europe. It has an able and accomplished correspondent in London, (a gentleman connected with the editorial staff of the London Times,) and regular correspondents in New York, Washington, Key West and Havana. The monthly New York Fashion Letters and weekly letters on Life in Washington are additional attractions in favor of its lady readers. Its literary notices, from the pen of a gentleman who occupies, perhaps, the highest position among the liter[illegible] the South, are discriminating [illegible] Attention is paid [illegible] cern, especi[illegible] Planting [illegible] the current [illegible] is taken tha[illegible] columns which [illegible] m the family circle.

The political creed of [illegible] MERCURY consists in the principles of the Democratic Party, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of 1798 and 1799—the Sovereignty of the States: a strict construction of the Federal Constitution by the General Government, the agent of the States: Free Trade, and an economical Administration of the Government. Its policy is the Union of the Southern States in maintaining their rights.

Terms--Payable in Advance,

DAILY, per annum.....$10 00
TRI-WEEKLY.....5.00

Clubs will be Furnished as follows:

Five Copies of the DAILY for.....$40.00
Five Copies of the TRI-WEEKLY.....20.00

The name of no person out of Charleston will be entered on our books, unless the payment of the subscription be made in advance. Nor will orders from without the city to publish Advertisements, Marriage Notices, or Obituaries, be attended to, unless the cash, or an acceptable city reference, accompany the order. Money may always be forwarded at our risk in registered letters.

POSTMASTERS are authorised to act as our agents in obtaining subscribers and forwarding the money; and by sending us Five DAILY subscribers, with $50 enclosed—or Five TRI-WEEKLY subscribers, with $25 enclosed, will be entitled to an extra copy; or if preferred, they may retain Twenty per cent. of the pre-payments, for their trouble in lieu of the extra paper.

Out of South Carolina, no person whatever, is authorised to collect debts already due to the Mercury.

In the State, Mr. SAMUEL BURGESS is our regular Agent to make collections and procure new business and subscriptions.

In Charleston, Mr. JAMES BUDDS, connected with the office, is our regular authorized collector who has full power to receipt for money now due the paper and to contract for future business.

Subscribers and others, in debt to us, are urgently requested to send in our dues by mail at the earliest period. By so doing, they will save us twenty per cent an amount equivalent to a principal portion of the profits.

[illegible]essary out-houses of a farm and [illegible]well of water. About one hun[illegible]fifty acres of the land is cleared [illegible]d state of cultivation and adapted [illegible]cultivation of cotton, the rest well [illegible]ed. Two hundred acres is the very best swamp land in New Hanover county,

The location of this farm is the best in that section. It is not only healthy, but the neighborhood is good, and is in close proximity to four churches, and only four miles from Long Creek Town, at which point all produce can be shipped to Wilmington.

Persons desirous of purchasing a good farm, should make early application to the undersigned at Wilson, N. C., or the Editor of the "Daily Rough Notes," Goldsboro'.

Terms low and good time given.

ROB ROY MORGAN!

THE FINE TROTTING STALLION,

ROB ROY MORGAN,

Will stand at GOLDSBORO', STANTONSBURG, and MOSELY HALL during the present season.

ROB ROY is a beautiful mahogany sorrel Horse, 16¼ hands high, 6 years old and as for beauty, style, action and speed, has no superior in this section. He has trotted his mile in 2.42.

He is known to be a thorough bred Morgan horse; he was sired by the celebrated Green Mountain Morgan, of Mass., whose sire was the imported horse Traveller, for whose pedigree and performances, see the American Turf Register. His dam was the beautiful Morgan mare, Lady Vermont, who was considered the best mare in the State for speed and endurance. Rob Roy has the credit of being her first colt, who does honor both to his sire, and dam. The character and performances of these Morgan horses are known throughout the whole country for their gentleness of disposition, size, speed and endurance, and when colts they command higher prices than any other breed of horses.

Rob Roy took the first Premium at the late State Fair at Raleigh. He also took the first Premium at the Wayne County Fair, and a Diploma at the Fair held at Clinton, Sampson County.

Rob Roy has been pronounced by competent judges to be one of the finest horses in the State. In fact, he has yet to see his superior anywhere.

TERMS:—$10 the single leap, to be paid at the time of serving the mare; $20 the season, if pre-paid, or $25 at the close of the season. Insurance $30. Groom fee $1. Mares put by insurance must be returned on their regular days, and parting with mare forfeits the insurance.

Mares sent from a distance will receive every care and attention at our stables, at fifty cents per day.

Twenty-one of these under two years of age; six from two years to ten.

These figures show three very important facts. First, That Charlotte is free from local disease. Second, That nearly one-half of the deaths was of children under ten years of age. Third, That the mortality in Charlotte is greatly below the average mortality throughout the world. Divide our 2800 population by 57, and you will get a quotient of about 50; that is, the average mortality in Charlotte is 1 in 50, whereas,

West Green NURSERIES

NEAR GREENSBORO, N. C.

Now is the time to Plant Orchards

FRUITS, green and dried, are, and will become one of the leading staples of the Southern States; and if you do not wish to raise fruit for market, then plant an orchard to raise fruit for family use, and make home more pleasant for yourselves and friends. Send on your orders without delay, and obtain trees in time to plant them this Fall, and by so doing you will gain one year over Spring planting, and your trees will be more certain to live.

The Concord, (N. H.) Standard.

It is quite refreshing to find that whilst so many of the Northern journals that have hitherto stood up for the South, and which have latterly turned against it, to find one still standing squarely up for the rights of the South. The Standard—published at Concord, New Hampshire, is doing this.

During the Breckenridge campaign (and whilst we were editing the Star of Freedom" at Wilson, N. C.) the Concord Standard was one of our most treasured exchanges; it supported Breckinridge for the Presidency all the while, and now it is opposing with all its might, the war policy of Abe Lincoln. It is ably edited, and we hope its editors will yet convince the Lincolnites that "somebody will get hurt" if they attempt to invade the South. We are also glad to find that the New York Day Book is yet opposing Lincoln and Scott's dogma. It has always been a staunch defender of the rights of the South.

Quartered Here.

There are two companies of volunteers from Wilson county, quartered at the Fair Grounds in this place. W. H. Bunn, of Wilson, the talented young lawyer, is the Captain of one company, and Dr. Stallings, of Stantonsburg, is Captain of the other company.

The Legislature.

This body, now in session at Raliegh, seem to feel the important circumstances which have assembled them into extra session, and are putting business through in a business-like manner.

Voted Against It.

Messrs. Sharpe, Worth, and Joe Turner, voted against the Convention bill. All the other members of the Legislature voted for it.

More Troops from Georgia.

Several hundred more troops from Georgia passed through this place last night, en route for Virginia.

☞ Hon. C. L. Vallandigham, of Ohio, does not endorse Lincoln's coercion policy as has been stated.

Such People Cannot be Conquered.

The Virginia Herald says:

The women of Fredericksburg have in public meeting resolved, that the ornaments of house and person shall not be withheld, if needed, to promote the interest of State and nation; and that they will deny themselves all the luxuries of dress and table, as far as possible, in order that the men shall have more to expend for the defense of home, and the liberties of the people.

A number of citizens of Caroline county, in the neighborhood of Guiney's Depot, have pledged themselves that the families of all the vounteers shall be provided with the necessaries of life free of charge; in their own full-hearted language, "IF IT BE TO DIVIDE OUR LAST MEASURE OF MEAL."

Such a people cannot and will not be conquered. They may meet with defeat, but this will only serve as a rebound to a victory to the enemy, and a glorious triumph of the principles won and established by the bayonet and blood in '76.

☞ The Democratic Standard, published at Concord, New Hampshire, comes to us in deepest mourning. The number is made up entirely of extracts from a great number of northern papers which cry peace! peace! peace!

President Da[vis]

President Davis [in his] sage:—

In conclusion, I com[mend] the fact, that in every por[tion] country, there has been exhi[bited] most patriotic devotion to our co[mmon] cause. Transportation companies h[ave] freely tendered the use of their lin[es] for troops and supplies. The Presi[dents] of the railroads of the Confederacy, in company with others who control lines of communication with States that we hope soon to greet as sisters, assembled in Convention in this city, and not only reduced largely the rates heretofore demanded for mail service and conveyance of troops and munitions, but voluntarily proffered to r[educe] their compensation at these r[educed] rates in the bonds of the Confe[deracy] for the purpose of leaving all [the] sources of the government at it[s] sal for the common defense.

Requisitions of troops have [been] with such alacrity that the [numbers] tendering their services have, [in] instance, greatly exceeded the [demand]. Men of the highest official and social position, are serving as volunteers in the ranks. The gravity of age and the zeal of youth, rival each other in the desire to be foremost for the public defense; and though at no other point than the one heretofore noticed, have they been stimulated by the excitement incident to actual engagement, and the hope of distinction for individual achievement, they have borne what, for new troops, is the most severe ordeal—patient toil and constant vigil, and all the exposure and discomfort of active service, with a resolution and fortitude such as to command approbation and justify the highest expectation of their conduct when active valor shall be required in place of steady endurance.

A people thus united and resolved cannot shrink from any sacrifice which they may be called on to make, nor can there be a reasonable doubt of their final success, however long and severe may be the test of their determination to maintain their birthright of freedom and equality, as a trust which it is their first duty to transmit, undiminished, to their prosperity.

A bounteous Providence cheers us with the promise of abundant crops.—The fields of grain which will, within a few weeks, be ready for the sickle, give asssurance of the amplest supply of food for man; whilst the corn, cotton, and other staple productions of our soil, afford abundant proof that up to this period, the season has been propitious.

We feel that our cause is just and holy; we protest solemnly in the face of mankind that we desire peace at any sacrifice, save that of honor and independence; we seek no conquest, no aggrandizement, no concession of any kind from the States with which we were lately confederated; all we ask is to be let alone; that those who never held power over us, shall now attempt our subjugation by arms.

This we will, this we must resist to the direst extremity. The moment that this pretension is abandoned, the sword will drop from our grasp, and we shall be ready to enter into treaties of amity and commerce that cannot but be mutually beneficial. So long as this pretension is maintained, with a firm reliance on that Divine Power which covers with its protection the just cause, we will continue to struggle for our inherent right to freedom, independence and self-government.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

MONTGOMERY, April 29, 1861.

☞ Major Robert Anderson has made it a point at every stopping place at the North, to complain of our "inhuman treatment" in firing on Sumter after Barracks were enveloyed in flames. Did anybody prevent him pulling down his dirty stripes? And why is it that he has not told "the Northern people" that he had a 10 inch Columbaid planted on the Parade sufficient to enable him to throw a 10 inch shell into the crowd of unarmed citizens, and helpless women, whom he knew full well would congregate in White Point Garden at the firing of the first gun. This is not a rumor, the gun has been seen, the elevation and direction have been noticed, and by his own acknowledgement, and that of his officers, the guns in exposed places could not be worked without the certainty of destruction; so our mothers, wives and sisters have not been slaughtered, because our guns kept him in his casemates. This is the brave man who was supplied with fresh meat, vegetables, &c., &c., and was thought by some to be a friend.—Charleston Mercury.

☞ It will be seen from our telegraphic reports that clearances of vessels from Northern ports for ports South of Delaware Bay, have been prohibited. Why not retaliate here by stopping all shipping in our ports destined North.—It should be attended to.—Exchange.

HMOND, May 2d, 1861.

is entertained here that ent at Washington intends, aps, to be on the aggres- the possession and over- Baltimore, and an attempt to [Fe]rry's Ferry are concerned. t and seemingly reliable rom Washington, reports there 27,000 troops—that daily increased by three d that they are better dis- armed than is generally the South. Gen. Scott is ave said, last Tuesday, to n whose character for in- and integrity is well known substantially and nearly ows: "That his course d, but that while he always fight for the ; that while he did not the policy of the Gov- ieved that they would y of invasion into the ut that they would re- take Fort Mo[nroe], trie, Sumter and Harper's Ferry at ery cost. They would also keep open the line of communication between the Ohio river and the Federal Capital." If this report be true—and it seems as well founded as any news we get—it confirms the statement that Scott is bordering upon second childhood. Judge Robertson, of this city, formerly on terms of intimacy with the superannuated hero, paid him a visit last week. He informs me that the General is exceedingly feeble, a tottering, aching, cumbersome frame, scarcely able to walk; that on greeting him, he told him "he had pains enough to kill forty men;" and that he is of the opinion the old man will probably not live more than two months. Alas! that his sun must set in so black a cloud of disgrace, that Virginia must deny his body a place of sepulchre among the graves of his fathers!

To much credence must not be given to the boastful reports of the men and means the North is ready to furnish. Words are cheap. Yankees are less sparing of them than they are of dollars, and dollars are the things they are contending for. We scarcely know which old Abe wishes most, to save the revenue, which he says will be cut off if he do[es] [co]erce the South, or to s[ave] [Sc]otter, which he [are] bringing [Sc]ott's and [Ba]n's thousands of dollars, wi[ll] [co]me, and then the masses will [say] that this war "won't pay." Their big talk is but the last instance of the "Yankee trick," which has so often been played on the South.

On the other hand, we must not under-estimate their strength. Their rage and their malice are sufficient to do the worst their strength will effect. They have the regular army and the navy, and they have the means of manufacturing arms, and they have tens of thousands of men thrown out of employment ready to enlist for their bread.—To look upon our enemies there as entirely formidable, would be to place ourselves at their cruel mercy. We are able to meet them anywhere, we are able tenfold to meet and destroy them upon our own soil. Fighting such an army as ours, fighting for such a cause as ours cannot fail.

Yours, G.

TRUE HEROISM.—Two of the late Judge Clopton's daughters had a servant hired at Fortress Monroe, and coould not get her by sending. They made one of their servants row them to the Fort in a boat; they were armed with revolvers and demanded admittance; the [Co]lonel refused; they insisted, and were told that they would be fired upon. They said fire, then, and drew their pistolvers and entered the Fort. They told the officers that they had heard that the Hampton people should not blow up sand-banks, but that it should be done, if the ladies had to do it; that they would head a company of ladies to do it. The officers said if they were specimens of the ladies, they did not know what the men of Hampton would do.

Why, then can be told that they will fight to the death.—Rich. Dispatch.

PRESIDENT DAVIS TO TAKE THE FIELD.—The Charleston Courier of Tuesday, says: "We learn from the most reliable source that President Davis will take command in person, as General-in-Chief of the forces gathering in Virginia."

☞ Whom shall the people obey? We have been persuading them to obey the Government in all its Constitutional requirements; but, if they do so, are they not in danger of being hanged by George Law and the Republican editors?—N. Y. Day Book.

From our Special Richmond Correspondent.

RICHMOND, May 1st, 1861.

The Convention yesterday passed the Stay Law, suspending the execution of judgements, in all cases of debt except those due the State, until otherwise ordered, or at the expiration of 30 days after the meeting of the next Legislature. These troublous times, require some appliances, and no complaint against the law has been heard. Perhaps the Legislature of North Carolina will be compelled to pass a similar law, though it was defeated at its last session.

Another body of South Carolina troops arrived here yesterday. They have been comfortably quartered in a large building, recently erected by the city for an Alms house but not yet occupied as such. The city has so few paupers that she can spare her new poor house to be used as a camp.

Martial law was proclaimed in Washington yesterday. A gentleman who left there a short time before its proclamation, reports that the force is not so formidable as is rumored, that a part of the Pennsylvania troops are the most miserable, disorderly and filthy wretches,—that the Government is determined to keep the passage through Maryland,—that Arlington Heights are not occupied, and that there is no probability of a movement towards the South from Washington.

Maryland is certainly most uncomfortably situated. Her Legislature has the most weighty responsibilities resting upon it. It has published an address to the State declaring that it will not pass any measure committing the State to secession, but if it is believed that it is desired by the people, it will give an opportunity of deciding for themselves. The truth is, it will require an unusual degree of courage for the State to do otherwise than Gov. Hicks recommends, viz: to hold a neutral position for the time. Meanwhile, let the Southern army be put in motion, prepare to defend the intimidated people, to drive back the myrmidons from her borders, and the State will follow Virginia where her interest and her honor alike would lead her. And if she will show the right spirit, if she will not temporize by cringing before the threatened assaults of the North, the soldiers of the Southern Army will march to her relief speedily and resolutely, determined to defend a sister or die on her soil.

We are looking to the Legislature of North Carolina. What will it do? Is there any need of calling a convention? If the question of secession is to be submitted to the people why not have the ordinance passed as speedily as possibly by the Legislature? Or if a convention must be called, why not allow that body to vote the State out of its nominal connection with the old government? Why have, a convention, if the people are to pass upon their action? The State is ripe for the movement and all unnecessary delay is injurious. The times we have fallen upon are times for action, not for wranglings. ACTION, prompt, speedy, if need be bloody is demanded. It is to be hoped that the Legislature will not revise any of the old party feuds which so hampered its actions during its last session. Let the past bury its dead, present momentous interest of the whole State absorb every other consideration, and the old North State will become one of the wealthiest and most powerful sovereignties in the Southern Confederacy.

Yours, &c. G.

DUPLIN, PULASKI, Co., VA., May 1, 1861.

An immense train of cars has reach- this station of the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad.

A portion of the Kentucky Regiment, four hundred in number, are en route for Lynchburg. They are noble specimens of men, and well represent the pluck of the "Dark and Bloody Ground."

There is a splendid Company from Mobile aboard also. These are the pioneers of three regiments from Alabama, which will follow to-morrow. They are all to quarter at Lynchbuurg for the present.

The "Dare Devils," from Grayson county, Va., are here awaiting transportation. This is a most formidable looking body of men. The number 135; not a man is less than six feet in height, and each one is willing to forfeit his right of suffrage if he does not hit a quarter dollar a distance of 200 yards every shot. If they should encounter Billy Wilson's New York cut-throats, there will but few of that one thousand shoulder-hitters left to tell the tale of their annihilation.

All along the road from Bristol to this point, the country is swarming with soldiers. I have never witnessed such enthusiasm. Truly the mountains are on fire, and the valleys in a blaze.

RICHMOND,

Lincoln troops are sti[ll] Washington City from North West.

There are rumors of a[n] tack upon Alexandria by Fe[d]

Gov. Letcher issued a P[roc]l this morning authorizing G[en] muster into service such addi[tional] unteers as may be necessary, points twenty-two places of re[n]dezvous for the Virginia troops.

HEADQUARTERS, ADJ.'T GEN.'S OFFICE, Raleigh, April 29, 1861.

ORDERS, No.

COLONEL:—You are commanded to organize the

1. Orange Light Infantry, Capt. Ashe,
2. Warrenton Guards, Capt. Wade,
3. Hornet's Nest Rifles, Capt. Williams,
4. Enfield Blues, Capt. Bell,
5. Lumberton Guards, Capt. Norment,
6. Duplin Rifles, Capt. Kenan,
7. Charlotte Greys, Capt. Ross,
8. Thomasville Rifles, Capt. Miller,
9. Granville Greys, Capt. Wortham,
10. Columbus Guards, Capt. Ellis, into a Regiment to be designated the "First Regiment of North Carolina Volunteers."

The Cadets of the North Carolina Military Institute can be attached to this Regiment with the consent of their parents and guardians.

The seat of War is the destination of this Regiment, and Virginia in all probability will be the first battle ground. The services of the Regiment will not exceed six months, but the men should be prepared to keep the field until the war has ended.

The grey or blue blouse will be recognized as a suitable uniform. Arms are now in Raleigh for the use of the Regiment, and the men will be furnished with them promptly.

The Regiment will be moved into Virginia as soon as possible, but will not be led into battle until the Field Officers are of opinion that the men are fit for such duty.

You will order an election of Field Officers of the Regiment on Friday, the 3rd day of May.

The cause of Virginia is the cause of North Carolina. In our first struggle for liberty, she nobly and freely poured out her blood in our defense; we will stand by her now in this our last struggle for Independence.

By order of the Governor,

JOHN F. HOKE, Adj.

Col. D. H. Hill, Commanding [School] of Instruction.

☞ The Bridgeport Dai[ly] Standard, Connecticut, says:

"Friday was the anniversary of the battle of Lexington—the first battle of the Revolution! What will it now dawn upon! May the Nations save us in this last of calamities—a civil war."

Amen, with all our hear[ts].

PROVISIONS SCARCE.—[Gen. Scott] recently from Washington, [says] that provisions are getting very scarce there—flour selling at twenty dollars per barrel. If Old Abe and his crew of office-holders and office-seekers do not speedily leave the city, they may find themselves in a short time without the staff of life. Mr. Lincoln should have looked out for such a contingency and had his larder well supplied.

MILLIONS FOR DEFENCE.—Thomas Winans, the famous Baltimore millionaire, has offered his entire fortune of $7,000,000 to the support of the Southern cause.

☞ The Hon. Asa Biggs, of North Carolina, has forwarded to Lincoln his commission as U. S. Judge.

GUANO! GUANO!!

FOWLES SOLUBLE PHOSPHATED PERUVIAN GUANO. Having accepted the Agency of this very valuable and reliable Guano, we would call special attention of Merchants and Planters to its superiority over all other fertilizers. Its great characteristic being the promptness and permanency of its effects in which it surpasses Peruvian as imported.

The very many certificates of its great usefulness from men of high character, well known to us, together with the sterling integrity of the well known proprietors, renders the Soluble Phosphated [illegible]tavian Guano worthy of perfect confidence.

While claiming vast superiority of this Guano over the Peruvian, we offer it at sixteen per cent less cost, viz: [illegible] ton.

GRANGER HOUSE,

(West side of the Railroads
GOLDSBORO,' N. C.
T. A. GRANGER
(Late of the Atlantic House, Beaufort, N. C.)
Proprietor.

HAVING Leased this once Far-Famed and Popular Establishment, for the entertainment of the public, I have fitted it up, from Cellar to Garret, with a special view to the comfort and convenience of guests.

It has been repaired, painted, papered, renovated and furnished throughout; and is warmed and ventilated, as to ensure domestic comfort.

Experienced, obliging and honest servants will always be ready to supply the wants and participate the comforts of guests; while no pains will be spared by the Proprietor to see that the duties of those servants shall be faithfully and punctually performed.

THE BAR

will be always supplied with the choicest liquors, and no expense will be spared in securing for the TABLE the reputation to which is entitled.

The stables are the best and largest in the country, affording room and comfort for an indefinite number of horses. For this department, experienced and faithful hostlers are provided.

If experience in his present business, and a desire to secure for the a reputation co-extensive with the best hotels in the country, can avail anything in securing a liberal share of public patronage, that patronage will not be wanting—no pains or expense which can merit it will be spared.

Gaston House.

NEWBERN, N. C.

THIS WELL KNOWN AND POPULAR establishment is still open for the reception and accommodation of the public, and no pains or expense will be spared to continue it a first class hotel.

An addition having been made during the past year by which 20 good rooms all with fire places and new furniture, have been added, the proprietor flatters himself that the "Gaston" will compare favorably with the best hotels of the State or elsewhere.

Although the Washington Hotel is under the superintendance of the proprietor of the Gaston House the two establisnments are kept separate and distinct.

WASHINGTON HOTEL! Newbern, N. C.

THIS WELL KNOWN HOTEL PROperty having been purchased by a company and placed under the superintendence and management of the undersigned—by whom it has been thoroughly renovated and refurnished—is now open for the accommodation of travellers and the public.—The Proprietors are determined that, by a liberal expenditure and good management the "Washington" shall take a position among the first class hotels in the State.

The Proprietors of the Washington take this method of assuring the former patrons of the house and the public that every effort will be made by themselves and assistants to render their guests comfortable and contented.

Although the Washington Hotel is under the general superintendence of the proprietor of the Gaston House the two establishments will be kept separate and distinct.

TERMS.
